Dana has been acting and singing since she was 6 years old and brings her very best for every performance she is afforded the opportunity to be in. Dana has been a long time cast member and participant with Heisler theater and is happy to continue to support and perform in shows like these. She hopes you enjoy the show and check out the upcoming shows to follow.

Merri Keeton, better known as Merri the Goat Lady, enjoys singing in performance choirs and local dive bars. Ms. Keeton has been a member of the Inland Master Chorale for 2 years and previously sang with the Burbank Chorale.

The Music Never Ends

Richard Lavin is returning to the Tudor House stage where he has previously appeared in, and/or written, and/or directed three different plays featuring Sherlock Holmes. This is passing strange as he is not a great fan of mysteries and is content to just sing in tonight's show.

Matthew Merola is our lights, and all around tech guy. He's been instrumental in putting on Heisler Theater shows for years, and has become an indispensable part of the shows.

The Music Never Ends

She has been involved with theater at the Tudor House since October 2023 involving acting, as well as stage crew/stage management. She has been singing/dancing since she was 5yrs old and has performed at the L.A. Fairgrounds as a child. She currently works for her local church and at SkyPark in multiple departments.

Chase Alcorn is thrilled to return to the Tudor House, where he has previously appeared in A Christmas Carol, Sherlock Holmes, and Night of the Living Dead. Though he has performed on many stages, even in different countries, this marks only his second time singing on stage. He hopes you enjoy The Music Never Ends!

The Music Never Ends

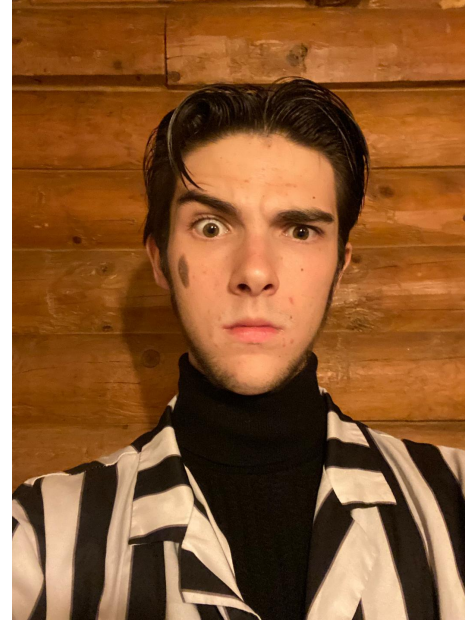

Sam Samm, Aka Sammy, is a young individual who enjoys spending their days outside tending to their garden and reading. They've been singing since they were around 7 but never really danced while doing so, its a nice push outside their comfort zone to sing and dance in this musical.

Alex May - Alex is currently a 7th grader at MPH. He has been working with Heisler Theater since he was 5 in numerous roles. A few years back, he decided to step behind the scenes work sound and tech for many many shows. He's even picked up lighting. Though Alex enjoys the theater his real passions are fishing and gaming.

The Music Never Ends

Aidan Lynch is a Junior at Rim of the World High-school, and he's been in four prior shows. He's excited to have joined on as a member of our on ensemble! Additionally, he hopes you enjoy the show and doesn't leave you on a LOW NOTE with his performance. After all if he did, he'd be in TREBLE...

Katie Joy is an actress, director and theater technician from Southern California. She has stage managed, performed in, and directed shows in Southern California (including Sweeney Todd, A Charlie Brown Christmas, and 9 to 5 at the California Theater) in Illinois (Hallelujah Girls), and in Texas (Little Women). This is the first show she has been a part of since her move back to California. She is so excited to be connecting with theater companies on the mountain. She is also thrilled to announce that she will be teaching Theater in the fall in San Bernardino City Unified School District.
